

Dr Abdessamad El Ouahabi is professor of neurosurgery and Chairman of neurosurgical department in Hôpital des spécialités Ibn Sina University Medical Center of Rabat ,Mohammed V University

Dr Abdessamad El Ouahabi was born in 1959 in Tangier Morocco. He was graduated from Rabat Medical school in 1984. He received his basic neurosurgery training in the department of Neurosurgery Ibn Sina University Medical Center of Rabat affiliated to Mohammed V University. He was appointed assistant professor in neurosurgery in 1987 and was a guest physician in the neurosurgical department of klinikum Steglis Berlin in 1989. Between 1990-1992, he was a Fulbright scholar in Brigham and Women hospital and children hospital, Harvard medical school in Boston.

Since 1996, he was appointed full professor at Mohammed V university, Rabat Medical School. Currently he is the Chairman of Neurosurgical Department of Hopital des Spécialités and Director of Residency Training Program and Research in Neurosurgery in Rabat Medical School ,Mohammed V University in Rabat .

Dr El Ouahabi is past President of the Moroccan society of Neurosurgery, founder and active member of many regional continental and international scientific societies ,He also organized many regional continental and international congresses and meetings. He served as WFNS congress officer and secretary of the 13th World Congress of Neurological Surgery(2001-2005) in Marrakesh.

He served also as the WFNS 2nd vice president CAANS (2013-2017)

He has important contributions to education and training mainly in WFNS Rabat Reference center for young African Neurosurgeons in the last fifteen years in many neurosurgical field :vascular ,pituitary adenomas,pediatric neurosurgery, pain and skull base tumors. He's the author of more than 70 scientific papers and has presented more than 170 papers or conferences in international and national meetings.