

Jie Tang, MD, is associate professor and Consultant of neurosurgery of Beijing Tiantan Hospital, Capital Medical University, China. His great interests focused on minimal invasive surgical management of brain lesions, particularly in skull base and brain stem lesions. He is co-authors of tens of peer reviewed papers and the Member of Youth Committee of Chinese Neurosurgical Society and Vice Chair of English Education and Training Committee of Chinese Association of Neurological Surgeons. He is Council Member of Asian-Oceanian Congress of Skull Base Societies and international member of Congress of Neurosurgical Surgeons (United States).